

- RATH, G. J. PPBS is more than a budget: It's a total-planning process. Nation's Schools, 1968, 82, 53-59, 90.
- SILVERN, L. Cybernetics and education K-12. Audiovisual Instruction, 1968, 13, 267-272.
- SMITH, R. G. The development of training objectives. (Human Resources Research Office Bulletin 11) Washington, D. C.: George Washington University, June 1964.
- SWEIGERT, R. L. The discovery of need in education: Developing a need inquiry system. Journal of Secondary Education, 1968, 43, 345-348. (a)
- SWEIGERT, R. L. Need assessment—the first step toward deliberate rather than impulsive response to problems. California State Department of Education, 1968. (Mimeo) (b)
- TANNER, C. K. Techniques and application of educational system analysis. Audiovisual Instruction, 1969, 14, 89-90.
- UNITED STATES AIR FORCE. Work statement preparation. (System Command Manual 70-5) February 1, 1968.
- UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. Work break down structure for defense material items. (Mil-Standard 881) November 1, 1968.
- UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT, Department of Defense. Performance measurement for selected acquisitions. (DOD Instruction 7000.2) December 12, 1967.

ERRATUM

In the article by George Albee in the December 1970 issue, the following incorrect statement appears on page 1077, lines 15-17: “. . . the American Medical Association has relinquished its tax-exempt status in order to participate actively in attempts at influencing legislation . . .” The American Medical Association has never relinquished its Sec. 501(c)(6) tax-exempt status, and continues in this category to this date.